Something to Consider:

The plans of the diligent lead surely to plenty.

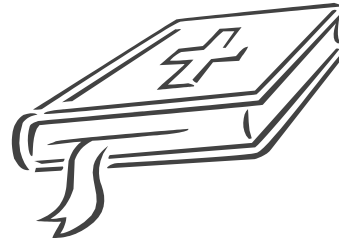

Proverbs 21:5

God created the entire universe in six days, and as each part was completed, He looked it over and said, “It is good.” He understood His work with diligence and was rewarded with a sense of satisfaction.

God wants you to gain satisfaction in return for your diligence as well—and you can. No matter what task lies before you, you have the power to transform it from being an exhausting struggle to a creative joy, simply by changing the way you view it.

Take a second look at the task at hand—reconciling your checkbook, changing diapers, or traveling on a long flight to a business meeting. Ask God to open your eyes to the creative energy in that task. Then go about it with your whole heart. You’ll enjoy your work a whole lot more, and God will bless you for it.
